

ENTERTAINMENT OF COUNTY BUSINESS MEN IS PLANNED

Program for Next Thursday's County Convention Here Full of Features

SPEAKERS ARE ANNOUNCED

William Smedley of Philadelphia, Walt S. Goodwin of New York and Enoch Raub of Pittsburg Among Those Engaged.

Local plans for the entertainment of county business men who will gather here next Thursday in convention are being arranged. The convention is being called for the purpose of organizing a permanent organization and is the follow up meeting to the first one held in Washington six months ago.

All the sessions will be held at the high school building, concluding with a banquet in the evening at the high school gymnasium. Guy Moffitt, Esq., is the chairman of the local committee.

The opening meeting of the day will begin at 10 o'clock in the morning. The morning session will be purely a business session at which time it is proposed to elect officers and to carry out the plans for the formation of a permanent organization.

In the afternoon there will be speaking and entertainment. The speakers who have been secured include Enoch Raub, of Pittsburg, councilman and business man, William Smedley of Philadelphia, a merchandise display expert, and Walt S. Goodwin of New York city, an entertainer. Mr. Goodwin will be the chief speaker of the evening.

Copies of the program are being prepared and will be sent out to all business men in the county interested in the convention.

The convention is virtually to be the beginning of a credit association in the county, if plans are carried out that will aim to defeat irresponsible trading and prevent an economic waste. The plan proposed is for the election of a secretary to be generally in charge of the work, he to have such assistants as are needed.

HUSBAND KILLED IN FALL; ASKS DAMAGES

North Charleroi Borough Charged With Negligence by Mrs. Ogden—Case Not Suited—Other Suits Are Now Pending

A non suit was taken Thursday in the suit of Jennie Ogden against the borough of North Charleroi. The plaintiff was not in court and the case was not ready to be proceeded with. In this action Mrs. Ogden claimed damages for the death of her husband, killed near the Charleroi-Monessen bridge in April of 1914. According to her statement he was walking along the street approaching the bridge. He stepped off the traveled highway to avoid a street car, the street at that point being narrow. He lost his balance and fell off the approach and was killed. The borough was charged with negligence in not guarding the dangerous point. Mrs. Ogden has also filed a suit against the Mercantile Bridge company, which owns the bridge. This suit has been continued. In Allegheny county is pending a suit against the Pittsburg

PRESS ASSOCIATION TO HOLD IMPORTANT MEETING TOMORROW

Reorganization for Year's Work and Adoption of New Constitution Among Business Planned.

An important meeting of the Monongahela Valley Press Association will be held tomorrow evening at the Waifred Hotel. At this time the association will be re-organized for the ensuing year and a new set of by-laws adopted. New officers will be elected. H. L. Lamb of the California Sentinel is now president and Harry E. Price of the Charleroi Mail is vice president.

Plans for making the association a more important organization to the newspaper men of the valley and a more active league are under contemplation. A good attendance of the Fourth Estate men is expected.

EMPLOYS MANY; HAS FEW HOMES

Donora as Boom Town Faces Direct Need of 1,000 New Homes Immediately

FARM PURCHASE SIGNIFICANT

With 6,200 men employed in the mills alone, saying nothing of those employed in other lines of trade or business, Donora as one of the chief boom towns of the Monongahela valley faces a direct need of 1,000 new homes immediately, without the power to get them. Yet builders are active.

During the last six months the erection of an acid plant, the beginning of the construction of additional open hearth furnaces and the starting of work on building an additional mill for the Donora subsidiaries of the United States Steel company, has created an immediate need of workmen which has largely been filled without living arrangements being perfected. The demand has been too sudden and has caught Donora real estate men unawares. Donora believes it is a second Gary, Ind., without the facilities to provide it.

One of the latest movements, however for upbuilding the community, was reported today in the sale of the old farm of 100 acres across the Monongahela river from the new acid plant, known as the Commodore W. J. Kuntz farm. The purchasers are Frank B. Hamby and J. C. Kenyon who propose to lay it off in lots as soon as possible and start immediate selling.

Many of the workmen at Donora in the mills, for contractors and others, live in Charleroi, Monongahela, Monessen, Eldora and other points and the probabilities are will continue to live there. This fact is recognized at Donora, but still at least 1,000 new homes are needed.

SMALL FORTUNE IN MORTGAGE STAMPS

West Penn Power Company Files Papers for Much Property, Including Charleroi Holdings, in County Recorder's Office

A small fortune in revenue stamps that the sum of $200,000 shall be placed on a mortgage covering a bond issue of the West Penn Power company, which has just been filed in the recorder's office at Washington. The actual amount represented by the stamps was $4,250. There were four stamps of a denomination of $1,000 each, two for $100 each, one for $20 and two for $10 each.

The mortgage is given by the West Penn Power company to the Equitable Trust company of New York, as trustee, to cover a first mortgage gold bond issue to be issued in denominations of $100, $500 and $1,000 each. The initial issue of these bonds consists of $8,500 of the denomination of $1,000 each. They bear interest at the rate of five per cent, payable March 1, 1916 with accrued interest and a premium of five per cent on the principal, making the total amount of issue $8,500,000. The company agrees

PUG FANS ANTICIPATE MUCH IN SHOW TOMORROW

Picato-Middleanders Will Attract Attention—Good Men on the Preliminary Card.

Those who have intimate knowledge of pugilists anticipate in the Picato-DeSanders mill at the Charleroi rink tomorrow night a battle of near championship aspects. Both men are in the best of shape for the go and it will be a clever bout by clever men. DeSanders is a Pittsburgher with ability of a sport that is making championship aspirants in the lightweight-middleweight class sit up and take notice. Picato is a New Castle man who is highly considered as a fighter.

The all star preliminaries are decidedly attractive. Battling Schultz of Monessen will meet Joe Kattell of Pittsburg in the semi final. This gives promise of being a fight of real class. The second bout will find Eddie Nevil of Donora and George McFarland of Pittsburg in the ring and the opening bout will see Al Clark of New Rochelle, N. Y. and Tommy Levine, the fast going Pittsburger facing each other. Referee William Riley of Monessen is to referee all bouts.

DAUGHTERS OF KING CLASS HOLDS SHOWER FOR BRIDE

The Daughters of the King class of the First Presbyterian church held a miscellaneous shower in honor to Mrs. Carl Edwards at her home on Lincoln avenue Thursday evening. Many beautiful gifts were bestowed upon the bride. During the social hour refreshments were served. The class is taught by Miss Tillie Hopkins. The next meeting will be held in two weeks at the home of Miss Mabel Orange.

WASHINGTON HIGH BOOSTING STOCK FOR CHARLEROI GAME

County Seat Lads Will Bring Best Team to Charleroi Tonight to Face Local Lads.

Recognizing the importance of the Charleroi game from a championship point of view the Washington high school will send its best basketball line up tonight to play the Charleroi high lads. At the present time Washington and Charleroi seem to be the strongest high school title struggle and this will be their first game.

From Washington Coach Sterrett will bring six men, Gracey, Baumberger, Reddinger, Barnhouse, Garbush and McKirahan. The Charleroi regular five will likely be started, consisting of Lowstuter, Fiedler, Ryland, Miksch and Stahlman.

Tomorrow night Charleroi high goes to Canonsburg and the game with the high school there will be another hard game. Already the Charleroi team has won one from Canonsburg.

LAD SUSTAINS BROKEN ARM IN FALL AT SCHOOL

Phillip Meli, a school lad who attends the Ninth street school and the son of Mr. and Mrs. E. Meli of McKean avenue sustained a fracture of a bone of his left wrist this morning in a fall while entering the school at Ninth street. He slipped and went down his arm being caught in such a way as to cause the fracture. The boy was taken home where a doctor attended him.

PLANNING REVIVAL CAMPAIGN TO BEGIN AT CHRISTIAN CHURCH

Greensburg Pastor to Assist Rev. Duty as Evangelist—First Meeting On Sunday, March 12.

Rev. E. N. Duty pastor of the First Christian church is busy arranging for a series of evangelistic meetings which will start at his church on Sunday, March 12, with Rev. B. S. Johnson, pastor of the First Christian church of Greensburg as the evangelist. A chorus choir of 100 voices will be organized under the direction of Rev. Duty.

Next Wednesday evening a prayer meeting will be held at the church preliminary to the beginning of the meetings. Six simultaneous prayer meetings will be held Thursday and Friday evenings at homes in various districts of Charleroi.

At Least a Part of Plant Will Resume Within the Next Few Weeks

BUSINESS REVIVAL IS FELT

Quickening in Industrial Circles Has Definite Result—Factory The One First Built in Charleroi—Operations Carried on For Years.

Carrying out plans formulated toward the end of last year, the Pittsburg Plate Glass company is busy putting the Charleroi factory in condition for partial operation that it is rumored, if affairs go well, may ultimately develop into complete operation. A portion of the plant will probably be started about the first of April, though no dates are definitely announced.

Except in the Carara department the Charleroi plant of the Pittsburg Plate Glass company has been closed down since 1911. The Carara department has operated rather steadily since that time employing from 50 to 150 men at different periods. The factory was the first established in Charleroi being started in 1890. From the year of its inception until 1911, with little interruption the factory ran steadily until 1911.

The plans originally contemplated for resumption included the starting of one furnace or the operation of about one-fourth capacity. When the factory was in complete operation it employed about 700 men. Revival of business conditions is the reason given for the present resumption.

AWAITING TRIAL NOW FOR MURDER

Two Men Placed in Jail for Killing August Paillaux at Burgettstown

ARE ARRESTED AT SMITHTON

Edward Bourguignon and Peter Debritz, two foreigners charged with the murder of August Paillaux at the latter's home at Bulger at 2 o'clock a. m., January 4, have, through the persistent efforts of County Detective Frank H. Mitchell and other officers working on the case, been arrested and are now in the county jail to await trial at the May term of court.

The two men escaped immediately after the murder. Officers informed County Detective Mitchell recently that they had been located in a hilling place near Smithton in Westmoreland county. Through a decoy trick Bourguignon was induced to go to his home at Smithton Wednesday and the deputy constable at that place arrested him. Debritz it was learned, was staying at his home at Jacobs' Creek and Detective Mitchell went there Wednesday night. Seeing his man enter his home, Officer Mitchell placed him under arrest and brought both men to Washington and placed them in jail. The defendants talked considerably of the murder, but the officer refuses to give out anything to him by either man.

Paillaux was shot through the head, the bullet entering above the left ear. He was found dead early on the morning of January 4. The cause of the trouble among the three men has never been given out. Eye-witnesses to the shooting have been held in jail since the murder.

The coroner's jury making investigation of the shooting recommended that Bourguignon be apprehended and held to await grand jury action, also recommending that Peter Debritz, who was believed to be an accessory to the crime, be apprehended and held.

The grand jury last month returned true bills against Bourguignon. L.

CANDIDATES FOR MILITARY SCHOOLS ARE ANNOUNCED

New Brighton Lad Appointed to West Point and Monongahela Lad to Annapolis Naval Academy.

From Washington D. C. it has been announced that Congressman Henry W. Temple had appointed Oliver T. Lockhart of New Brighton and Lloyd L. Yohe of Monongahela, as candidates for admittance to the United States Naval Academy, at Annapolis, Md. Thomas A. Bridges of Washington and Theodore H. Marlin of New Castle, were named as alternates by Congressman Temple.

Congressman Temple had two vacancies to fill by reason of the recent increase in the number of midshipmen provided for by congress.

When a competitive examination for the appointment from the 24th congressional district was held in the main building of Washington and Jefferson college a few weeks ago, Oliver T. Lockhart, appointed as one of the principals, was the only young man to take the examination.

Lloyd Yohe is a son of Dr. E. L. Yohe of Monongahela and is now tutoring preparatory to taking the examination in June. Thomas A. Bridges, the other young man appointed is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. K. Bridges of Washington and is a freshman in Washington & Jefferson college.

zic Loariski of Bulger who was present at the killing is alleged to have been the cause of the crime.

EMBARRASSING PROSPERITY

Usually when there is plenty of capital to be had, there is a lack of employment and when there is work for everybody, there is a lack of ready money. At present we have the novel combination of plenty of work and plenty of capital, says the Pennsylvania Spirit.

The situation in general is greater than the supply. There is money and credit enough to take care of all current needs, and to finance any business enterprises, no matter how great that anybody cares to undertake.

The situation is especially good for labor. The hordes of newcomers that have kept wages down heretofore are no longer cheapening our labor market. So few aliens are arriving that thus far this year the net gain from immigration is only about 7,000 a month. The economic influence of that number is negligible.

An agent of the federal reserve banks announces, after a broad survey of American business conditions, that there are today "more products, more workers, more wages paid, than ever before."

There is so much business that the country can't handle it. The prosperity wave has risen so suddenly that we're unprepared for it. The railroads can't move the freight.

The ships can't carry the exports. The factories can't turn out goods fast enough. Some western sections are said to be afraid of a serious shortage of necessary merchandise.

Prosperity is tramping on its own feet and getting in its own way. But what a burst of enriching activity there will be in this country soon—barring accidents—when the industrial and commercial machinery has all been got into smooth working order, and a Republican Administration has substituted the American principle of protection for the bungling and burdensome revenue measure now in force.

SETTLING UP.

To make your life sublime, settle up. That is the sort of philosophy which runs through a recently published poem of Walt Mason, the Kansan poet-philosopher. He says:

"If every man would pay his bills, just when those bills are due, we'd sidestep many grievous ills which now make people blue. The merchant carries on his books about a million debts, and some who figure there are crooks and some misfortune-tunes pets. Some hope to play the honest game when they have got the tin, and it may be they'll do that same soon as their ships come in. But some ships travel mighty slow, of winds and waves and sport; some hit the reef of Norman's Woe, and never come to port. The merchant's have to charge us more for everything they sell, to cover the defaulter's score and hence H. C. of L. When's you buy a pound of pills or quart of pumpkin rind, you're paying something on the bills of those who are behind. If you, who read these simple rules would pay your bills on time you'd help to cut the price of prunes and make your life sublime."

Were the projected Lake Erie and Ohio river ship canal now an accomplished fact in place of a probability, there would be little chance of a freight congestion in the east, particularly if the freight congestion was due to the extremely large imports abroad. The explanation is the easiest thing imaginable. Pittsburgh says, would be a center. From there shipments to New York by an all-water route would be a matter of fact. Without unloading, unless desired, the cargoes would be transported to the vessels employed to carry them abroad. The size of cargoes would matter not at all. Really, this canal is beginning to appear as an absolute necessity and one is compelled to wonder how we manage to get along without it.

Every business man and citizen should feel an interest in the coming convention of retailers to be held by county business men in Charleroi next Thursday. Aside from the importance of the various sessions aimed chiefly to correct retail abuses and to prevent economic losses, Charleroi should take a local pride in having the convention. This is virtually the organization meeting that Charleroi was selected as the proper place for holding it was a distinct compliment.

"Go ahead, nobody but Wagner would ever know it, and he's dead."

NTW NEW WOMAN DUE TO TANLAC REMEDY LAUDEDED

Mrs. Hegarty Surprised Tanlac Man
By Remarkable Restoration to Complete Health.

"Don't you know me, Mr. Kohsin?" "I certainly do not. I never saw you before."

"Don't you remember the woman, that had to be half carried into Turner's Drug Store six weeks ago, when you first came to Altoona and bought a bottle of Tanlac?"

"Yes, I remember that incident."

"Well, I am that woman, Mrs. Hegarty. Then I was so sick from nervousness and sick stomach that I could not walk a square without being assisted. Now I am strong and vigorous and in perfect health, after only taking three bottles of Tanlac. The doctors had said that I was a nervous wreck and never would be well again. Look at me now. I do not look as if I had ever been sick a day, so my friends and relatives say. I'll say they are telling the truth, because I am so happy over my recovery."

So said Mrs. H. K. Hegarty, of Bellwood, near Altoona, Pa., to Mr. Kohsin, the Tanlac Man at the Turner Drug Company's Store, 1116 Eleventh Avenue, Altoona.

Mr. Kohsin stated that when Mrs. Hegarty came to the Turner Store and bought a bottle of Tanlac, she was the sickest woman he had ever seen. Now she is the very picture of health. Tanlac is now sold in Charleroi exclusively by Piper Bros Drug Store where the premier preparation can be had.

CAMELS OF THE DESERT.

Their Peculiar Adaptability to Life in the Sandy Wastes.

The camel thrives only in desert regions. And herein lies its usefulness to man, for by its means alone he is enabled to cross barren tracts otherwise impassable. This ability to live without water and with little food for long periods is due to two natural reservoirs. Water is stored in special pockets in the lining of the stomach, while a large mass of fat is stored on the back, forming the characteristic hump, though, according to popular belief, it is here that the water is held. Though it will manage to subsist for long periods on the thorny scrub such as forms the only vegetation of desert areas and with very little water, its complacency in these matters may be overtaxed, as was disastrously shown during the first expedition to Khartum.

Two other factors in the adaptability of the camel to a desert life have to be taken into account. These are the feet and nostrils. The first named have but two toes, protected by very thick, horny pads to resist the burning sand, while the nostrils are long and slitlike and can be closed at will, thereby enabling the animal to survive the awful sandstorms which so frequently endanger the lives of travelers in these inhospitable regions.—St. Paul Pioneer Press.

ATLAS AND HIS LOAD.

It Was the Heavens, Not the Earth, the Titan of Mythology Upheld.

Strictly speaking, "Atlas" is a misnomer for a map book, since it was not the world, but the heavens, that the Atlas of mythology upheld. Mercator, the famous Dutch geographer, who made globes for Emperor Charles V. of Germany, was the first to use the name in this connection, choosing it as a convenient and in some sort an appropriate title, because Atlas, the demigod, figures with a world upon his shoulders as a frontispiece of some early works on geography.

Atlas, it was said, made war with other Titans upon Zeus and, being conquered, was condemned to bear heaven upon his head and hands. Later tradition represented him as a man changed by means of Medusa's head into a mountain, upon which rested heaven and all its stars.

In any case, Atlas was always associated with a heavy burden strongly borne. Thus Shakespeare makes Warwick say to Gloucester: "Then art no Atlas for so great a weight."

It is not difficult to see how by an association of ideas this came to be chosen as the name for a book of maps which upholds and exhibits to us the whole world.

An Eccentric Bishop.

Bishop Wilson of Calcutta had as housekeeper a venerable lady who remembered the duel between Sir Philip Francis and Warren Hastings on Aug. 17, 1780. On entering the cathedral on a Sunday morning, fully robed, lawn sleeves and all, and passing the pew where the old lady sat he would pause and give her the "kiss of peace" before all the congregation, and this although he had met her at breakfast.

His sermons, too, were racy. Preaching against dishonesty, especially in horseflesh, as one of the great English failings in India, he went on: "Nor are we, servants of the altar, free from yielding to this temptation." Pointing to the occupant of the reading desk below him: "There is my dear and venerable brother, the archdeacon, down there. He is an instance of it. He once sold me a horse. It was unsound. I was a stranger, and he took me in."

Golf Defined. On the terrace of a country club a group of non-golfers were taking tea. A male non-golfer said thoughtfully: "Golf might be defined as billiards gone to grass."

"Spleen on the green. I'd call it," said a female non-golfer.

"Or the last flicker in the dying fire of athletics," sneered a young football player.

"The misuse of land and language," suggested a tennis champion.

"No, no; you're all wrong," said a famous angler. "Golf is simply a game wherein the ball lies badly and the player well."—Washington Post.

The Burglar's Prayer. "Sir Herbert Risley, speaking of the ravages of eastern Bengal at a meeting of the Royal Anthropological Institute, said a curious system of religious worship prevailed among a caste who were professional burglars. They made a space in the ground, and a man then cut his arm and prayed to one of the earth gods that there might be a dark night and that he might succeed in obtaining great booty and escape capture.—London Standard.

That Face! "Look me straight in the face and tell me you really love me," he said warmly to the sweet young thing who stood in front of him with downcast eyes.

"Oh, I couldn't do that," came from the lips of the clever girl.—Yonkers Statesman.

The Cause. "What is the cause of social unrest?" "The desire," replied Mr. Dustin Stax, "of the workingman for leisure and of the leisurely man for something to keep him busy."—Washington Star.

Women Once Invalids

Now in Good Health Through Use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Say it is Household Necessity. Doctor Called it a Miracle.

All women ought to know the wonderful effects of taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound even on those who seem hopelessly ill. Here are three actual cases:

Harrisburg, Penn.—"When I was single I suffered a great deal from female weakness because my work compelled me to stand all day. I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for that and was made stronger by its use. After I was married I took the Compound again for a female trouble and after three months I passed what the doctor called a growth. He said it was a miracle that it came away as one generally goes under the knife to have them removed. I never want to be without your Compound in the house."—Mrs. FRANK KNOBL, 1642 Fulton St., Harrisburg, Penn.

Hardly Able to Move.

Albert Lea, Minn.—"For about a year I had sharp pains across my back and hips and was hardly able to move around the house. My head would ache and I was dizzy and had no appetite. After taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Liver Pills, I am feeling stronger than for years. I have a little boy eight months old and am doing my work all alone. I would not be without your remedies in the house as there are none like them."—Mrs. F. E. Yost, 611 Water St., Albert Lea, Minn.

Three Doctors Gave Her Up.

Pittsburg, Penn.—"Your medicine has helped me wonderfully. When I was a girl 13 years old I was always sickly and was hardly able to stand all day. I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and with the third bottle began to feel better. I soon became regular and I got strong and shortly after I was married. Now I have two nice stout healthy children and am able to work hard every day."—Mrs. CLEMENTINA DUEBING, 34 Gardner St., Troy Hill, Pittsburg, Penn.

All women are invited to write to the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass., for special advice.—it will be confidential.
